

RAUL'S BIO IN A NUTSHELL

Raul Garcia is Head of Operations at Parcelly and in charge of internal process efficiency and automation, directly managing the business development and customer service teams. He is also highly involved in logistic, retail and corporate partnerships, assuring their operational viability. Furthermore, his role is responsible for various internal administrative tasks like payroll, expenses or supplies and actively supports the CEO with investor relationships.

Before starting his role at Parcelly, Raul spent 5+ years in London's City with leading financial institution Santander Global Banking & Markets. He held various positions involving business analysis, strategic planning and management control, directly reporting to the SGBM UK CEO. In his last position at Santander Raul ran all internal operations for a team of 46 investment bankers.

Prior to this, Raul gained experience as an auditor and consultant in PwC Spain, working with an extensive variety of clients (including Hertz, ThyssenKrupp, Prosegur, Asisa, Banco Pastor/MutuaM investment Fund) and being in charge of the entire audit process for complex individual companies after only one year with the company.

Raul holds a double degree in Business Administration and Economics and is extremely passionate about technology and innovation. As such, he is involved in side projects in the gaming, health, education and retail sectors as investor and advisor.
